

PRE-LISTING PRICING ANALYSIS

17892 Hampshire Lane

Boca Raton, FL 33498 • Stonebridge Country Club

May 2026 | Prepared for David & Gabriel

Dear David and Gabriel,

Here's where I land on pricing for 17892 Hampshire — and the why behind it. The short version: a comparable home in Stonebridge just went under contract in 23 days at $1,995,000. That tells us exactly what the market is willing to pay right now for turnkey product in the community, and your home — larger, with the lake view, the new roof, the solar, the impact windows, and a deeper renovation across the board — is positioned to go above it. Details below.

THE STONEBRIDGE MARKET RIGHT NOW

Two things to look at here: the recent Stonebridge listing that went under contract in 23 days (the primary signal of where the market is trading right now), and the closed renovated sales over the past six months (the floor that any analysis has to rest on). Subject in blue at top.

PROPERTY	STATUS	BD / BA	LIVING SF	PRICE	$ / SF

Approximate size for the pending listing is taken from public sources; final specs will be confirmed when the sale closes and is released to MLS.

WHAT THE DATA TELLS US

- The pending listing is the anchor. A ~3,294 sf Stonebridge home went under contract in just 23 days at a list price of $1,995,000. That's approximately $606 per square foot — a clear signal that buyer demand for turnkey product in this community is well above what the closed comps alone would suggest.
- Your home is meaningfully larger and more deeply renovated. At 4,316 sf, 17892 Hampshire is meaningfully larger than the pending listing, with one additional bedroom, a half-bath advantage, and a long lake view. Just as important, the renovation scope is comprehensive — new roof, impact windows, solar, newer mechanicals, new kitchen, new flooring, new pool deck, and fresh exterior. Pricing slightly above that pending in total dollars actually delivers a buyer a lower price per square foot and a deeper turnkey package.
- Closed comps set the floor, not the ceiling. Renovated sales over the past six months trade at $313–$322/sf. We should know those numbers because every buyer's agent will run them — but they reflect deals from late 2025 and early 2026, before the current run-up. The pending tells us where the market is right now.

MY RECOMMENDATION

RECOMMENDED LIST PRICE RANGE

$2,099,000 – $2,195,000

Final list price to be set together at the walk-through

$486 – $509 per square foot — a discount to the pending comp's ~$606/sf

The case for the range

The pending Stonebridge listing at $1,995,000 — a 3,294-square-foot home that went under contract in 23 days at approximately $606 per square foot — is the strongest current indicator of buyer demand in this community. The market is clearly rewarding turnkey product well above where the closed comps from late 2025 and early 2026 traded.

Your home at 4,316 square feet is meaningfully larger, with four bedrooms, four full baths, a long lake view, and a deeper renovation — new roof, impact windows, solar, newer mechanicals, new kitchen, new flooring, new pool deck, and fresh exterior. That's not an interior refresh competing on price per square foot — it's a fully repositioned home competing on total value, and at $486–$509/sf the entire range remains a per-foot discount to the pending.

How the range works

POSITION	LIST PRICE	RATIONALE
Anchor — Conservative	$2,099,000	$486/sf. A clear per-foot discount to the pending. Positions for the broadest buyer pool and the cleanest negotiation path.
Midpoint	$2,150,000	$498/sf. The pragmatic middle — psychologically under $2.2M, leaves room to negotiate toward $2,075,000–$2,100,000.
Ceiling — Aspirational	$2,195,000	$509/sf. Still below the pending's $/sf. Justified by the lake view, new roof, and full impact windows that the pending may not have.

Let's grab time together

Let's walk through this whenever it works for you both. Once we lock in the timing of the roof and the exterior wrap-up, we'll pick the right number inside this range and the right launch date. Excited to bring this one to market.

Looking forward to it,

Edmund Bogen
